Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The following proclamation was sued by the President : "At no recurrence of the season which the devout habit of religious people has made the occasion for giving thanks to Almighty God and humbly invoking His divine favor, has the material prosperity enjoyed by our whole country been more conapicuous, more manifold or more universal. During the past year, also, unbroken peace with all foreign nations, the general prevalence of domestic tranquility, and the supremacy and security of the great institutions of civil and religious freedom have gladdened the hearts of our people and confirmed their attachment to their Government, which the wisdom and courage of our ancestors so fitly framed, and the wisdom and courage of their descendants have so firmly maintained, to be the habitation of Liberty and Justice to successive generations. "Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do appoint Thursday, the 27th day of November, instant, as a day of National Thanksgiving and Prayer; and Is earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, that the people of the United States do meet together on that day in their respective places of worship, there to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for His mercles, and to devoutly beseech their continuance.

"In witness whereof, I have here unto set my hand[and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

The Globe-Democrat thinks the emall Republican majority in New York is a strong argument for the continuance of the Grant boom, as nothing but Grant's popularity can "pull the State through in 1880." This argument is hardly good, however, from the fact that the opposition to Cornell in the Republican party, led by George William Curtis, was about as great as was the opposition to Robinson led by Kelly. This being correct a united party could pull publican. Last spring the bourbons J. G. Blaine through very easily.
